

Clark Mountain

This topo represents the world class sport climbing area known as Clark Mountain on the California, Nevada border. Clark Mt. was pioneered by Randy Leavitt and several of his friends throughout the 1990's. It is about 5 hours drive from San Diego.

The map is designed as a quick field reference to find a particular grade to climb, from stout 5.10's to burly 5.14's.

There is some discrepancy on detail where routes diverge or merge from each other. Not included are projects which may or may not be bolted.
